

The image features a central shield-shaped logo with a red border. Inside the shield, the words "SEPTO" and "GUARD" are written in a bold, dark blue, sans-serif font, stacked vertically. The shield has a white background with a small teal-colored section at the bottom. Surrounding the shield are four stylized virus icons in a light teal color, each with a circular body and numerous small protrusions representing spikes or surface proteins. The entire composition is set against a white background and enclosed within a dark teal rectangular border.
